

Links For Film Greening Initiatives

New Zealand

www.greeningthescreen.co.nz

New Zealand has a very well developed green film project. This is a large document

UCLA / CIWM study

www.ciwmb.ca.gov/Publications/default.asp?pubid=1229

Published in Nov. of 2006 this study places the film industry in Los Angeles as the second largest polluter next to the petroleum industry. There are numerous mentions of actions studios and individuals are taking to work more sustainably. This is also a large document.

Environmental Media Association

www.ema-online.org/

Mission: ema mobilizes the entertainment industry in a global effort to educate people about environmental issues and inspire them into action The EMA established 17 years ago in LA provides productions with local resources and a checklist to rate your productions eco footprint

GreenCode project

www.greencodeproject.org/

An initiative recently begun in Montreal by two independant film makers.Green Code Project hopes to represent all of Canada in developing a green standard for media. Recent partners include The National Film Board and Greenpeace.

British Columbia

Reel Green

www.bcfilmcommission.com/community/reel-green-bc.htm

Reel Green BC serves as a gateway to information and resources that promote positive environmental practices in BC's film and television industry.

New Mexico

Film New Mexico /Green Film Making Initiative

www.nmfilm.com/filming/green-filming/

New Mexico's Green Film Making Initiative is a voluntary program to encourage environmentally sensitive film & television production.

New York

Mayor's Office of Film Theatre and Broadcasting is launching a green the screen webpage. Hard to find though. Go to MOFTB site look under news and scroll down to press release dated May 1 '07. There is another link at the bottom of the release.

IATSE local 873 Toronto
Green TO Film
www.IATSE 873.com

IATSE 873 formed an environment committee in early February of '07 with the intentions of bringing long overdue environmental awareness to our work and creating a green round table for the Toronto Film community. Contacts : Jacqui Hemingway @ needtopaint.@hotmail.com or Melissa Morgan @ catpond@idirect.com. The IA 873 site will soon have a Greenzone accessible to the industry.

Artist rendering by Jacqui Hemingway

Printed on 100% recycled paper