

Jim Barber

On January 29th, 2013, Jim Barber lost his battle with lung cancer at the Chinook Regional Hospital in Lethbridge, Alberta, where he had been visiting loved ones over Christmas. Jim passed away peacefully and in no pain, and never lost his sense of humor right up to the end. He spent much of his remaining days speaking fondly of his friends and family with whom he shared so many experiences. Jim was a man who truly loved going to work. He may have complained about the hospital food during his battle (who wouldn't?), but Jim never ever complained that life was unfair. He took everything in stride, and was tough right up until the end, never giving up the fight.

So we say goodbye to Jim Barber, whatever your relation to him may have been. He was a father, husband, friend and mentor. He sometimes came across as a grizzly, but more resembled a big teddy bear.

Thank you for everything you ever shared, taught, or did for us Jimmy, and may you rest in peace.

"No Regrets"

*No! No regrets
No! I will have no regrets
All the things
That went wrong
For at last I have learned to be strong*

*No! No regrets
No! I will have no regrets
For the grief doesn't last
It is gone
I've forgotten the past*

*And the memories I had
I no longer desire
Both the good and the bad
I have flung in a fire
And I feel in my heart
That the seed has been sown
It is something quite new
It's like nothing I've known*

*No! No regrets
No! I will have no regrets
All the things that went wrong
For at last I have learned to be strong*

*No! No regrets
No! I will have no regrets
For the seed that is new
It's the love that is growing for you*

*English Translation of "Non! Je ne regrette rien"
by Edith Piaf*
